

POLICY 4.1 Inviting a Presenter or Preacher

SUMMARY

1. This policy applies to Catholic venues, Catholic entities and Catholic events in the Archdiocese of Grouard-McLennan when a presenter or preacher from outside of the Archdiocese is invited to speak to the Catholic faithful on a subject regarding faith and morals, social responsibility and/or life issues.
2. Hosting and/or organizing venues, entities and individuals are asked to notify the Office of the Archbishop as soon as possible in the planning about the invited speaker(s) and/or preacher(s). They are asked to assure themselves of the suitability of the talk or presentation and that the contents comply with the teachings of the Catholic Church on the subject.
3. The hosting and/or organizing venues, entities and individuals are responsible for any related fees or honorarium to be paid to the speaker(s) and/or preacher(s).

It is becoming increasingly common for parishes, archdiocesan committees, Catholic organizations and schools in the Archdiocese of Grouard-McLennan, to invite a presenter or preacher as part of a faith formation, evangelization or spiritual development event. The inviting group selects a particular presenter or preacher because of his or her potential to attract an audience to the event.

This policy was developed by the Archbishop of Grouard-McLennan and the College of Consultors to guide persons, committees or groups to make well-informed and beneficial decisions regarding those they invite to present, preach and teach in Catholic venues and at Catholic-sponsored events in the Archdiocese.

The Archbishop is the shepherd of the faithful in the Archdiocese of Grouard-McLennan and is mandated to teach, govern and sanctify them. The Archbishop requests that hosts and organizers of events satisfy themselves that the information to be presented is in compliance with the teachings of the Catholic Church.

2. Procedure

As early as possible in the planning of an event for Catholics in the Archdiocese, the event organizer shall send a completed form 4.1.a, Notice of Event/Speaker, to the Office of the Archbishop, by email (exec.agm@live.ca), fax (780-532-9706) or mail (10301 102 Street, Grande Prairie AB T8V2W2).

This policy does not require that the inviting group obtain the Archbishop’s endorsement of a speaker or his permission to issue an invitation.

The hosts and organizers of an event with an outside speaker or preacher should also take some time to assure themselves of the suitability of the proposed speaker or preacher. Table 4.1.a provides a flowchart that hosts and organizers can use to guide their decision making process.

The responsibility for determining the suitability of a speaker or preacher rests with the inviting group.

3. Other considerations

In addition to satisfying themselves about the suitability of a speaker or preacher, the hosts and organizers of events must determine that the proposed venue is appropriate for the type or style of presentation. In particular, if the hosts and organizers are intending to use a parish church, they will need to familiarize themselves with Policy 2.1.1. This is of particular importance if the speaker or preacher makes use of sacred space in the presentation.

If the invited speaker is a priest or permanent deacon, the event organizer is responsible for ensuring that a Letter of Suitability is provided to the Chancellor from the cleric's diocese of residence.

4. Payments to presenters and preachers

There are two types of payments that may be made to presenters and preachers: a fee and an honorarium.

A fee is set by the presenter or preacher and is often part of a contractual agreement with the presenter or preacher. A fee is a form of income.

An honorarium is set by the host and is voluntary. An honorarium is not usually considered to be a form of income. The suggested amount of an honorarium is $100-$200, taking into account the circumstances around the presentation made.
